100th Anniversary of White Cross

Bandage Rolling is a vital part of White Cross

Our rolled bandages are part of the handwork that is sent to the Congo (Niles).

During our White Cross Tea, we rolled over 80 bandages.

White Cross is a tradition of providing practical help since World War I.

White Cross provides opportunities for individuals and churches to help the most vulnerable in our world. Since 1919, we have responded to those in need with love of Christ by fulfilling specific requests to purchase much needed ministry supplies for Global Servants (our International Missionaries) and partners.

Our Global Servants identify needs among the people they serve and prepare a White Cross Project. This project is sent to International Ministries who reaches out to churches in the Great Rivers Region. International Ministries receives the monetary contributions and handwork (bandages) and distributes funds and handwork to more than 20 countries.
